(2) Achievements and Reflection on Major Concerns; Feedback and Follow-up

- Major Concern 1: Fully implement education on national security and civic education, and strive to cultivate a positive set of values in students

Achievements

1. The students' understanding and awareness of national security and civic education have been enhanced by strengthening the curriculum and teaching related topics.

- ✧ Elements from various fields of national security were incorporated into daily teaching and learning activities across all academic subjects. During the lesson observations, all teachers designated national security as one of the focal points. After the observations, teachers held a lesson evaluation meeting. All the teachers agreed that the post-lesson observation meeting provided an opportunity to evaluate and discuss the effectiveness of learning and teaching strategies, creating a platform for professional sharing. In the stakeholder survey, more than 95% of the teacher respondents strongly agreed or agreed that the school curriculum aligned with national identity.
- ✧ The school organised different kinds of talks and activities for students on national security. For example, all students were arranged to visit the National Security Exhibition Gallery; some selected students attended a marine science talk about the Jialong deep-sea manned submersible; and the ambassadors of the Basic Law and the members of the National Flag Raising Team visited Ngong Shuen Chau Barracks. These activities and talks provided students with real-world insights into national security.
- ✧ A new curriculum for the humanities subject has been established, providing a comprehensive and holistic framework for national education, including national security education and China's intangible cultural heritage, such as woodblock printing, basin meals, Chinese calligraphy, leather-silhouette shows, Chinese chess, and opera makeup. All the subject teachers agreed that students' sense of national identity had been cultivated in a more systematic way through the humanities curriculum.
- ✧ The School arranged for all teachers to participate in the on-campus national security education seminar organised by the Education Bureau on 24th February, 2025, in order to strengthen their knowledge and skills related to teaching national security and civic education. Some teachers also attended workshops and talks organised by the EDB and other organizations. In the stakeholder survey, 98.3% of the teacher respondents strongly agreed or agreed that the professional development activities for teachers organised by the school were very helpful to their work.

2. The School continuously cultivates the sense of national identity among student.

- ✧ All the students participated in competitions related to national security and civic education. For example, all primary one to primary six students joined the "Territory-wide Inter-school National Security Knowledge Challenge" (全港學界國家安全常識挑戰賽); all primary four to primary six students participated in the "Second 'How Much Do You Know About One Country, Two Systems' Knowledge Competition" (第二屆-一國兩制知多少-中小學知識競賽); and some students took part in "The Second Hong Kong Inter-school Civic Education Officer Competition" (第二屆「全港學界公民教育專員選拔賽」).
- ✧ The School arranged different topics related to national security education and civic education for sharing during the morning assembly each week. Additionally, after the flag-raising ceremony on Mondays, there was a speech under the national flag to deepen students' and parents' understanding of China and enhance their sense of national identity. Through these assemblies, the School also aimed to cultivate students' sense of civic responsibility. In the stakeholder survey, more than 90% of the parent respondents strongly agreed or agreed that the school helped their child develop good moral character.
- ✧ Posters illustrating different fields of national security were displayed around the school campuses. All the teachers and students are familiar with the twenty major fields of national security.
- ✧ The School organised many local visits, exhibitions, and activities to enhance students' understanding of national security. For example, all students visited the National Security Exhibition Gallery; the ambassadors of the Basic Law and members of the National Flag Raising Team visited Ngong Shuen Chau Barracks and an exhibition titled "A Movable Feast: The Culture of Food and Drink in China" at the Hong Kong Palace Museum. Some primary four to primary six students attended a "Modern Six Arts" training camp, among other activities. All the teachers and parents agreed that these events could raise students' understanding of national security.

3. Students' understanding of Chinese culture and national development, as well as their sense of national identity and belonging, have been gradually deepened.

- ✧ The School organised trips to Chinese Mainland for students at different levels to broaden their horizons regarding civic education. All primary four students went to Guangzhou and Foshan, primary five students traveled to Wuhan, and primary six students visited Zhuhai. Members of the National Flag Raising Team went to Dongguan. More than 90% of the teacher respondents agreed that these events could deepen students' understanding of Chinese culture and national development, enhance their sense of belonging, and strengthen their national identity.

4. The value education at the School has been strengthened, and a positive set of values and attitudes has been gradually nurtured in students.

- ✧ Our school-based framework of the Twelve Priority Values and Attitudes has been established by incorporating them into our school motto: "Love, Respect, Diligence, and Integrity."
- ✧ Posters featuring the school-based framework of the Twelve Priority Values and Attitudes were designed and displayed around the school campus.
- ✧ The Twelve priority values and attitudes were incorporated into daily teaching and learning activities among all academic subjects. In the stakeholder survey, more than 90% of the parent respondents strongly agreed or agreed that the school helped their child develop good moral character. 100% of teacher respondents strongly agreed or agreed that the school curriculum aligned with proper values and attitudes.
- ✧ The School organised local community services for students to cultivate their positive values. All primary five students made handcrafts with the elderly, and all primary six students went to the supermarket with the blind. Our school teams, such as the skipping team, lion dance team, school choir, and orchestra, performed at events organised by different community groups.

Reflection

- Although students' understanding and awareness of national security and civic education have been enhanced, approximately 20% of student respondents in the subscale "National Identity (Responsibility, Obligations)" disagreed that it is their responsibility to safeguard national security. This may be because students feel that issues of national security are somewhat removed from their daily lives and may lack a deep understanding of how to specifically participate in and contribute to national security.
- A new curriculum for the humanities subject has been established, but this was the first year for the school to implement it. Additionally, publishers did not have any textbooks related to the new subject, requiring teachers to take time to adapt and prepare for the new content.
- More than 90% of parents agreed with the school's efforts. However, continued engagement with parents to gather their insights and feedback can help strengthen the home-school partnership.

Feedback and Follow-up

- Incorporating diverse activities in the classroom can deepen students' sense of responsibility towards national security. For example, organizing role plays that simulate national security events can help students comprehend the importance of security issues in real-life scenarios. Teaching students how to correctly interpret and analyse news and information related to national security can enhance their awareness and sense of responsibility regarding these topics. Inviting experts in the field of security to conduct workshops at the school can provide students with valuable insights and experiences, helping them understand the real-world significance of these issues.

- After a year of implementation, adjustments will be made to our school's humanities curriculum based on feedback and observed outcomes. A regular review process will be established to assess the curriculum's effectiveness and make necessary updates or revisions. Staying informed about new research and trends in humanities education will ensure the curriculum remains relevant and impactful.
- In addition to inviting parents to join our morning assemblies to learn more about national security and civic education, we can organize workshops on these topics. The workshops will provide an opportunity for parents to discuss and align with our educational goals.

- Major Concern 2: Pay attention to the physical and mental health quality of students, and create a "Positive, Healthy, and Energetic" campus.

Achievements

1. The School continually fosters healthy lifestyle habits among students in order to promote physical and mental well-being.

- ✧ Elements of a healthy lifestyle, habits, and mental health were incorporated into daily teaching and learning activities across all academic subjects. During lesson observations, all teachers identified "cultivating students' physical and mental health" as one of the focal points. After the observations, teachers held a lesson evaluation meeting, unanimously agreeing that the post-lesson observation meeting provided an opportunity to evaluate and discuss the effectiveness of learning and teaching strategies, creating a platform for professional sharing. In the stakeholder survey, all teacher respondents strongly agreed or agreed that the school curriculum aligned with promoting a healthy lifestyle.
- ✧ "Wellness November" took place in November, featuring activities focused on physical and mental health for students. Over 80% of student respondents strongly agreed or agreed that they lead a healthy lifestyle, which includes balancing study and rest, engaging in sufficient physical exercise, and knowing how to reduce stress.
- ✧ Related workshops and talks were held to help students develop healthy lifestyles and understand the importance of physical and mental well-being. For example, the School invited former Hong Kong team athletes to share their experiences and the positive attitudes they adopted in overcoming challenges, encouraging students to embrace their dreams and face difficulties with determination. The school social worker organised a "Happiness Navigator" seminar, utilizing science-based narrative therapy theories and engaging interactive activities. This helped students learn how to cope with life's pressures and setbacks while discovering their strengths and unique qualities.
- ✧ Various activities were held during recess, including sports games, team-building exercises, and chess and board games. More than 80% of students reported enjoying these activities during recess.

- ✧ Relevant books on physical and mental well-being were introduced during morning assemblies and featured in the library's "Book Recommendation" corner.

2. The School actively nurtured students' growth mindset and positive attitudes.

- ✧ In the 2024–2025 school year, the Student Award Scheme was refined to promote students' growth mindset and positive attitudes, with revised criteria highlighting resilience, effort, persistence, and personal improvement. A series of recess 'flash activities' were introduced to allow students to demonstrate these qualities through quick, engaging mini-games. Students earned stickers as immediate recognition, reinforcing positive behaviours in a joyful way.
- ✧ Evaluation through questionnaires, interviews, observations, and APASO showed that over 75% of students participated, and more than 80% gave positive feedback on the enhanced criteria and recognition process. Regular sharing of success stories during assemblies further strengthened a culture of positivity, resilience, and growth, contributing to students' mental well-being.

3. Students' sense of belonging to the School is gradually increasing.

- ✧ The School implemented various activities, including class slogans, monthly birthday celebrations, inter-competitions during recess, house leagues, caring angels, and sports team selections. These initiatives aimed to create a positive and vibrant campus environment and enhance students' sense of belonging. Over 80% of student respondents strongly agreed or agreed that they like the school.

4. The School helped strengthen students' adaptability and stress resilience in order to actively cope with their personal developmental challenges.

- ✧ Various support initiatives have been implemented to strengthen students' adaptability during transitional periods and reduce stress. Examples include the P.1 Orientation Day, P.3 visit to the Sheung Heung campus, FR Secret Angels program, P.5–6 SSPA information session, and the P.5–6 interview workshop.
- ✧ A stress management group was successfully conducted this year in collaboration with professors, focusing on coping strategies and emotional support. The program involved 9 students and consisted of 10 sessions held from October 2024 to February 2025, providing a platform for students to share experiences and seek help.
- ✧ The Zone of Regulation initiative was actively promoted at the Sheung Heung campus to enhance emotional awareness and self-regulation among both students and teachers. Slogans were introduced to reinforce the message, and key concepts were shared during morning assemblies by teachers and social workers. Posters were displayed in every classroom. At the FR campus, school social workers delivered a targeted talk to junior form students focusing on the "4Rs"—Relax, Rest, Relationship, and Resilience—to strengthen their understanding of emotional wellbeing and coping strategies. 100% of students have participated in the workshop provided by social workers on emotional resilience this year.

- ✧ According to the student questionnaire on the Zone of Regulation, approximately 70% of senior students reported gaining a deeper understanding of emotions through the workshop, while 60% indicated that the emotional knowledge they acquired at school was helpful to them.

5. The School has built vibrant communities and nurtured positive relationships between students and various stakeholders.

- ✧ The School organised a talk titled "Positive Lecture: Life Education," aimed at guiding parents on how to help children navigate profound topics such as life and death, love and care, as well as setbacks and growth. This initiative sought to foster empathy and a sense of responsibility in students, playing a key role in helping them develop a correct worldview and life perspective, thereby promoting mental and physical health. Over 85% of parent respondents strongly agreed or agreed that the school helped them acquire knowledge and methods for educating their children.
- ✧ To strengthen the bonds between students, teachers, and parents, the school arranged a series of engaging activities. These included friendly teacher-student sports games and competitions held during breaks, on Fruit Day, and after exams. A parent-child massage class was also offered, designed to promote the well-being of parents and nurture stronger family connections. Over 80% positive feedback from both teachers and students regarding the sports games, assessing their enjoyment and perceived impact on relationships.

Reflection

- The enhancements to the Student Award Scheme effectively strengthened students' awareness of resilience, effort, and personal improvement. The recess flash activities provided meaningful opportunities for students to practise these qualities, and the strong participation and positive feedback reflected their engagement. The scheme successfully supported the development of a growth mindset, though sustaining intrinsic motivation and deepening daily application of these values will remain key areas for further development.
- Last school year, we primarily focused on organizing seminars related to physical, mental, and spiritual health for students and parents. But there was a lack of training for teachers on techniques to help students develop healthy lifestyles and habits.

- Last year was the first year of implementing the Zone of Regulation program, primarily for upper-grade students, and the activities were well-received by the students. After a year, it needs to be evaluated or adjusted.

Feedback and Follow-up

- The School will continue refining the award criteria and expanding recess flash activities to maintain students' engagement. Teachers and parents will work together to reinforce growth-mindset values, while ongoing observations and surveys will guide further improvements to the scheme.
- More workshops or seminars will be arranged or introduced for teachers on how to help students develop physical, mental and spiritual health and habits.
- The Zone of Regulation will be further reinforced as part of the daily school routine. Social workers will visit classrooms to introduce the framework at the class level, and it will be incorporated into student journals starting next academic year to enhance emotional awareness and self-regulation among students.
